COMPANY PROFILE

Central Christian University (CCU) is a Research-based private-not-profit University dedicated to providing Higher Education Programmes in Malawi and beyond. CCU is a world-class university established to compete in the global knowledge-based economy, train productive human resources and promote national development. The University is duly registered with the Malawi Government with Certificate of incorporation No. 14634.

Hon Prof. Osman H. Nyakuleha founded Central Christian University formerly known as Christian College of Education in August 2015. CCU is located in the commercial City of Blantyre, and our main campus is situated at the Beverly Building-Opposite to National Library Services, Along Zalewa Road. CCU is ISO 9001:2015 Certified and registered by NCHE and a proud member of Association of African Universities (AAU), American Management Association (AMA), American Planning Association (APA), Association of MBAs, ILA Intersections, International Association of Academicians Scholars, Scientists & Engineers (IAASSE), International Association of Applied Psychology (IAAP) International Association of Conscious & Creative Writers (IACCW) International Association of Innovation Professionals (IAIP), International Management Research & Technology Consortium (IORTC), International Society for Development & Sustainability (ISDS), National Association for Media Literacy Education (NAMLE), Online Learning Consortium (OLC), Regional Studies Association (RSA) & many more.

The University was founded to fill a niche in the market of tertiary education which is to strengthen the linkage between universities-industries through research and development activities in Malawi and beyond. CCU realizes that higher education institutions are widely recognized as essential contributors to economic development through their role in producing the knowledge, skills, and innovations needed to drive their respective national economies. In today's knowledge-based economies, research and development (R&D) is seen as key to economic growth and competitiveness

There is therefore a need to create a strong interface between this educational sub-sector and the productive sector that requires the skills and knowledge of graduates from universities and other higher educational institutions in their enterprises to increase productivity. In addition to producing work-ready graduates for the job market, universities, also play a pivotal role in conducting research, consultancy and technological innovations that promote real and sustained economic growth and social development.

MISSION STATEMENT

Our mission is to empower business leaders, coming entrepreneurs and advance knowledge and skills to promote the progress of global Education.

We are committed to offering open and distance learning programmes that are aimed at reducing illiteracy and democratizing access to knowledge in Malawi and beyond. We also seek to promote university-industry linkages through research and development with a view to contribute to national and regional economic growth and competitiveness.

OUR VISION

We envision being an academic leader in the provision of innovative teaching, research and development of a knowledge-based society that can address challenges of the 21st century and beyond.

OUR GOAL

- a. To compete in the global knowledge-based economy
- b. To train productive human resources
- c. To promote national development
- d. To equip students with skills and desire for self-employment and entrepreneurship rather than conventional wage employment
- e. To develop the quest for knowledge and lifelong learning skills that are essential for continuous upgrading of knowledge and skills parallel to the rapid advancement in global knowledge.

PHILOSOPHY

Our working Philosophy is to ensure that Our Learners' needs and expectations are taken into account and supported.

PRINCIPLE

The principle of the institution is that Quality Standards Must Never be Compromised.

OBJECTIVES

The objects of the university are:

- To produce quality and relevant students graduate with skills for the workforce.

- To play a pivotal role in applying research and innovation to address socio-economic problems and promote innovation for economic growth by forging strategic partnerships with the productive sector of the economy and national innovation systems.
- To award and confer Degrees, Diplomas and Certificates and other academic distinctions including honorary Degrees and distinctions.
- To contribute to local, national and international policy making for equitable development.
- To advance, transmit and preserve knowledge in societal progress from one generation to the next.

OUR CORE VALUES

❖ Learner-Centred

We do not teach our students, but we only attempt to provide conditions in which to enhance their academic success.

❖ Equality of access and opportunity

We endorse the aim of widening participation in higher education, and value the benefits of diversity in our staff and student communities.

❖ Respect for Diversity & individual differences

We promote diversity in the University community, through our people, ideas and cultures. We create a vibrant, inclusive environment in which ideas flourish and future generations, regardless of background are empowered. We respect our colleagues and work together for shared success.

❖ Holistic

We are committed to develop the whole person as God intends him to be.

❖ Excellence

We strive for excellence, seeking to apply the highest standards to benefits our communities.

❖ Service to society.

We are committed to fostering the broader social good, at the local and national level in the communities we operate in, as well as globally.

❖ Entrepreneurship and Innovation

We will continue to encourage innovation throughout the University community and be known for our entrepreneurship.

❖ Transparency and Accountability

We strive to be clear and open about what we do and why, and value the views of the whole University community. Our decisions ensure responsible stewardship of the University's resources, reputation and values. We lead by example in all areas including our approaches to sustainability.

❖ Academic freedom and curiosity

All academic staff and students should be able to follow their academic interests to engage in research, teaching and learning of the highest quality. We value learning and knowledge for their own sake, as well as for the social and economic benefit they can bring.

❖ Partnership and collaboration

We take the initiative to engage with others: universities, governments, student associations, schools, businesses, charities and communities-locally, nationally and internationally.

❖ Staff and student support

We recognize our duty of care to all staff and students and will provide them with high quality support to facilitate the development of their intellectual, emotional, physical, and spiritual wellbeing.

VICE CHANCELLOR'S REMARKS

I'm very much pleased to inform that Central Christian University (CCU) is a dynamic center of Competent learning, and an ideal place for the pursuit of higher studies. We emphasize quality academics, values, and an educational environment designed to promote student's growth.

The CCU has introduced modern and fastest improved technology in its curriculum, which provides extensive opportunities to the students for preparing themselves for the new millennium. As a CCU student, you're never alone. If you need help, have a question, or want to discuss a point in your studies, we encourage you to contact us in writing, by phone, or by E-mail. Our knowledgeable, caring instructional staff is here to give you a prompt, detailed response.

CCU's atmosphere creates special dynamics in the classroom and in the research arena. The university's particular intellectual style combines emphasis on scholarship, research, critical reflection, and social engagement. Through both disciplinary depth and a strong comparative and Trans-disciplinary approach, studies at CCU focus on the diverse and changing social, economic, political, and legal aspects and needs of different societies.

The University will continue to be engaged and committed to addressing current challenges that impede fast economic growth and the eradication of poverty, ignorance and disease in Malawi. In addition, the university also observes that there are newer challenges of immediate effect and impact in the country such as: challenges of human insecurity especially food insecurity, a non-predictable global economic and political environment, grave youth unemployment, epidemics, climate change, ecological disturbance and the challenges related to issues of inequity (especially gender inequity), social cohesion and social justice. CCU will be more closely engaged in tackling all these challenges.

CCU strives to be an innovative institution, dedicated to the future of changing and changed societies. The CCU is an exciting and dynamic environment, a place where aspirations, ambitions and the zeal of intellectual exploration come together.

CCU Main Study Centre is Situated in Blantyre (Malawi) Opposite to National Library Service- Zalewa Road. The premises are easily accessible by bus and Car.

There is ample Learning area that has been specially designed for conducive learning, Examinations, Counseling and distributing of Learning Materials.

Looking forward to welcoming you

Dr. Sylvester White Chabuka

Vice Chancellor
